If the form requires a phone or address not officially provided, ask Super Fan support before validating.

Funding

Self-funded

Use applicant bank, salary, sponsor, or personal proof

Only select host organization covers all expenses if an official support document says that.

Visual example: accommodation fields use the real stay details, while Super Fan support contact details are used only for support contact fields.

Step 8: Funding Of Travel Expenses

- Select the funding option that matches the real arrangement for flights, accommodation, meals, insurance, and daily expenses.
- If you are paying your own expenses, choose self-funded options and prepare financial documents.

- If a club or package covers some costs, prepare proof of what is covered and select the closest truthful funding option.
- Do not select all expenses covered by a host organization unless an official support document says those expenses are covered.

Step 9: Supporting Documents Screen

- Review the required document list generated by the France-Visas form. It may appear in the local language of the submission post.
- Save or print the list and compare it with the appointment centre list for your country.
- Continue only after you understand which documents you must bring in original and copy.

Step 10: Review, Validate, Print

1. Open the completed form summary and review every section against your passport and travel documents.
2. Correct any mistakes before validating. After validation, the form may no longer be editable.
3. Confirm the declaration only when the information is correct and complete.
4. Print the final application form and registration receipt. The printed form must not be a draft.
5. Sign the application form by hand. For minors, follow the parent or guardian signature rules required by the visa centre.

Appointment And Submission

Book The Appointment

- Use the appointment page for the country where you submit the application.
- France-Visas guidance says short-stay visa applications can generally be submitted from 6 months to 2 weeks before departure. Earlier is better when appointment slots are limited.
- If no ideal slot is available, book the earliest available appointment, then email the Super Fan support inbox with the details listed below.
- Do not wait without booking anything if the portal offers a later slot. A real appointment date is easier to review and escalate than no booking.
